[Reading Section]

第7問 次の英文を読み、あとの問い(A・B)に答えなさい。

Do you like traveling? Which countries and cities have you been to? Today, let me introduce to you two popular and *attractive tourist spots to visit.

Okinawa and Hawaii are both very popular places for a lot of tourists. Many people visit these spots all year around, but they have some similarities and differences. Let's check them out!

First, both Okinawa and Hawaii are famous for their beautiful beaches. People from all over the world visit these islands to enjoy the clear blue water and white sandy beaches. You can enjoy swimming, snorkeling, and surfing in both places. In Okinawa, Kondo Beach is one of the best beaches. It is on Taketomi Island and famous for its *shallow, clear water and peaceful *atmosphere. It is perfect for families. In Hawaii, Waikiki Beach is one of the most famous beaches. It is on the island of Oahu and is known for surfing. There are many shops and hotels near this beach.

Second, both islands have a warm climate. This means it is perfect for outdoor activities all year around. Okinawa has a *subtropical climate. It is warm most of the year. The average temperature is around 23°C. Hawaii has a tropical climate. It is warm all year around with average temperatures between 24°C and 30°C. You can enjoy the sun and the sea in both Okinawa and Hawaii.

Third, they have rich cultures. In Okinawa, you can see traditional dances and music. Okinawan dance is known as Ryukyu dance. There are two main types of Ryukyu dance: classical dance and folk dance. In the classical one, people often tell stories of love and nature. The folk one, on the other hand, is more lively and performed during festivals. Okinawan music is often played with the sanshin. In Hawaii, you can watch a traditional dance called hula dancing. Hula dancers tell stories through movements and gestures. There are two main types of hula just like Ryukyu dance. One is Hula Kashiko (the old style) and the other is Hula Auana (the new style). Hula Kashiko is performed with drums and *gourds, while Hula Auana is performed to songs with the ukulele and guitar.

Now, let's look at the differences. Okinawa is part of Japan, but Hawaii is part of the United States. This means that the languages are different. In Okinawa, people speak Japanese and Okinawan, while in Hawaii, people speak English and Hawaiian.

Another difference is the food. In Okinawa, you can enjoy dishes like goya champuru and Okinawa soba. In Hawaii, you can try poke (raw fish salad) and loco moco (a dish with rice, hamburger patty, and egg).

The history of the two islands is also different. Okinawa has a long history as the Ryukyu Kingdom. The capital was called Shuri. Sho Hashi *founded the Ryukyu Kingdom in 1429. It lasted for 450 years until it was controlled by the Japanese government. The site of Shuri Castle is still there.

Hawaii was also a kingdom before it became a U.S. *territory. King Kamehameha I started it in 1795 and he united the islands into one kingdom in 1810. After some big changes, the Kingdom of Hawaii ended in 1893. Even now, both islands have interesting historical sites to visit.

Lastly, the natural *scenery is different. Okinawa has many small islands and coral reefs. Hawaii has *volcanoes and green mountains. Each island has its own unique beauty. Why don't you visit Okinawa and Hawaii? You will have amazing experiences.

*attractive 魅力的な	*shallow 浅い	*atmosphere 雰囲気	*subtropical 亜熱帯の
*gourds ヒョウタン(ウリ科の果実)		*founded 建国した	*territory 領土
*scenery 景色	*volcanoes 火山
